A natural performer, larger than life, she never fails to surprise and delight!

Originally hailing from Wiradjuri Country in Central West NSW, Timberlina is a proud First Nation Queen, a move to the 'big city' in her formative years saw Timberlina dabbled in all things dance and drama.

After short hiatus from the limelight, Timberlina was re-born in spectacular style and glittery glory in early 2017, and continues to be an ever-evolving chameleon of the performance and hosting world.

Timberlina's over-the-top style and dazzling repertoire, coupled with her naughty quick wit, will keep you fabulously entertained for hours.

Timberlina was crowned Miss Photogenic in Miss First Nation Supreme Queen 2023 and Miss Congeniality in the Miss First Nation 2018.

ABORK | @THE_ABORK

Abork was thrust upon the world in 2018 and rapidly drowned herself in drag. The love this queen holds for Drama and Theatre shines through in all her hosting and performance roles. She thrives on captivating the audience, spreading love, and expressing creativity in all her drag.

Abork's versatile and unique drag has been showcased all over NSW – Sydney, Dubbo, Trundle, Parkes, Broken Hill – but is most prominently seen in her hometown of Newcastle. Abork identifies her most significant performance was the New Norfolk, Tasmania Absolut Pride Party.

Now? She's been propelled to you're stage to let you all HAVE IT!

FOXKE FAUX | @FOXKEFAUX

Foxxe has proven herself as a female born performer pushing the expectations of drag.

Foxxe has experience performing all over Newcastle. From events at the University of Newcastle, BLUSH, Heaps Gay to choreographing and performing for Newcastle Pride's Fair Day show just to name a few. Foxxe always knows how to wow the crowd with her energetic dance abilities.

As well as locally, Foxxe has also performed internationally. Earlier this year she took part in Delta Work's Work Mary competition, a local event at Hamburger Mary's in West Hollywood. Coming out in second place was a huge achievement and a beneficial experiment. Participating in such events provided her the experience to work and interact with different crowds and performers helping her to grow and develop as a performer.

Through the opportunities provided by winning Timberlina's Drag Off Foxxe plans to encourage anyone and everyone to participate in drag. She believes that all drag is valid and that anyone of any gender should and can do drag successfully.
